A DEWSBURY GROCER

Lance-Corpl. Wm. Crosby (23), K.O.Y.L.I., only son of Mrs. Crosby, Park Street, Crackenedge, Dewsbury, was last week reported by a comrade to have been killed while leaving the trenches on December 1st, but the sad news has not yet been corroborated. Lance-Corpl. Crosby was connected with the firm of Messrs. Crosby and Allan, grocers, Market Place, of which his father, Mr. George Crosby, was senior partner. He was an old boy of Carlton Road Council School, and closely associated with Wellington Road Primitive Methodist Church.

LOCAL WAR CASUALTIES

Killed by Shell Fire While Sleeping

Signaller Joseph Colbeck (19), R.G.A., son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Colbeck, 26, Hartley Street, Dewsbury, made the supreme sacrifice in France on October 9th. "A shell landed in a shelter where he and five of his comrades were sleeping," writes a Chaplain. "He died on the way to the dressing station, without having recovered consciousness. Three others were also killed and two wounded. Your son will be greatly missed in the battery, for he had earned the respect of all by reason of his sterling worth and devotion to duty."

A native of Soothill, Batley, and an old boy of Carlton Road Council School, Signaller Colbeck became attached to the Batley Carr Spiritualist Church and Lyceum. Later he joined the Spiritualist Church at Bond Street, Dewsbury, with which his parents have been prominently associated for years. Up to the end of 1917 he worked in the finishing department at Messrs. Joshua Ellis and Co.'s Mill, Savile Town. He was a member of Batley Carr Working Men's Club. Signaller Colbeck landed in France on July 5th and joined his battery on August 26th. Mr. Joseph Colbeck, who is suffering from paralysis, was for 30 years in the employ of Messrs. Alfred Hill and Sons, oil extractors, Batley Carr.
