

The Missing Memorials

We have found reports in the newspapers after the war of memorials being unveiled in churches, clubs, places of work, schools etc. that have long since closed down or moved. We will, over the next twelve months, be trying to locate these memorials. Please help us by asking for information in local groups that you may be involved with. There were fourteen memorials we knew to be missing and we have located three of these so far.